We see that our cotemporaries are underiaking to explain the results of the late elections in Onio, Pennsylvania and Iowa. One thinks Vallandigham was beat on ac-Woodward was beaten because he, too, was thought not quite belligerent enough. We any better, and he was a war man in the service, and believed in war to the end till the rebellion was put down.

We don't see that Vallandigham lost any rotes by his cpinions about the war. We believe it will turn out that he got a larger vote than the Democrats ever polled before in his State, and a larger one than any one ever get that was elected in Ohio. The same is found to be true of Woodward, of Pennsylvania, for a good cause. In that case, it would be all right, of course. We shall, therefore, take these results as we find them, and interpret them as the Republicans, Abolitionists & Co. have interpreted them. The majority of these States, therefore, support the Administration. They are for the war as it is. They are for men and money ad infinitum to put down the rebellion. They approve the policy of the war as adopted by the Administration, and particularly the negro policy; for that was a chief point in the whole canvais. They believe in an alliance with the American citizen of African descent to put down while rebels. They are for confiscation, extermination, &c. They den't intend that any State shall return to the Union until slayery is abolished in it. So Br ugh declared, and so his organs generally declared. They believe in the power of the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus at his discretion, and in his power to arrest any citizen, try him or not as he pleases, and by any tribunal he may select, with full power to inflict any penalty he may choose. They, moreover, approve the exercise of this power, as it has been exercised, and as it may be exercised hereafter. All these matters were before the people, were fully discussed, and ably discussed, and the majority have given the verdict, which admits of no interpretation except what we have given it. We deceive ourselves by making any less of it.

There was a full vote certainly. Nobody was denled the right of suffrage. In Cincinrati or Hamilton county the vote this year was-Democrat 14,894, Republican in Philadelphia there was the same extrava-Probably ail colors voted. It cannot, therefore, be said there was not a fuil vote, and more too; and it is not worth while to misnnderstand the result. This is the last popular demonstration in these States before the next ermine the result of that election. To be sure great changes may occur before Novemtry just now. When so great a mejority approve the policy of the war, certainly the Goverument should not be at any loss for volun-showing that, contrary to the repeated assevsinds of labor prevailed; that its tendency was to elevate the whites. This was so marked slaves, numerically, in any section of it, was followed by a coincident improvement in the desirable qualities in the white race. It may be replied that this improvement was at the expense of the negro, but as this country was es ablished by the white race for their benefit it would be unjust to so legislateas to degrade them for the chimerical object of elevating the black.

A just and generous care of the slave is what humanity requires, but to argue that their interests should be considered primary to the rnling race is an absurdity. Under of the slave keeps pace with, and may be said to originate from, a due regard to the interests of the master. They should be held in bondage so long as, without, inhumanity to themselves, they were profitable to the State; nor should they be released from that bondage when such release, though profitable to the white, would be cruei to them. We are met just at this point with the deciaration of the radicals, that of all inhumanity, that of is no other way to aid the Government. slavery is the greatest, and thereforestonid at all hazards be abolished.

It would be sufficient, if convincing to their opponents, to show that the condition of the lave is really easier than it would be if he were free. ladeed, this is so far admitted that his condition is acknowledged to be better. both morally and in intelligence, than if he may infer. also, from the President's depertation and colonization scheme, that he doubted whether their freedom amongst us would not be worse for the slave. This certainly His only words were: "Do something for me." seems to leave, in his opinion, the question of the humanity of emancination, as distinguished frem slavery, an open question. The trouble is to find some authority that will convince 245,000 in 1850 to 55,000 in 1863. This marks these fanatics. We can offer a few quotations from that sacred volume which at least onght to be authority with all professed Christians. The two first verses indicate the time and place. | ter from Colonel John H. Mellenry, Jr., ad-In verses 44, 45, and 46, it is recapitulated who are to be slaves-including those pur-

He not on the day the last copy paid for is sent. This only regulates but establishes the law. Arc we to believe that a divine and merciful ruler sought to establish an institution which, according to radical authority, was the most savage cruelty that could be wrought npon In reality, slavery is an institution crucl or beneficial according to the necessities which count of his anti-war record; another that produce it, and the interests of the master and slave. If by its abolition it can be shown that both will be benefited, there is no doubt don't see that General Tuttle, of Iowa, fared that its continuance would be wrong; but we object to the mere speculative conclusions of fanatics, against the absolute facts, as sufficient anthority for its abolition. We are not ready to follow those who, in their blind and wicked fanaticism, call for an anticlavery Bible and an anticlavery God. To their pharasaical cx-clamations that they are better Christians, in any event to well the person claming to be fanatics, against the absolute facts, as sufficient clamations that they are better Christians, more refined and educated than the Southerners, we show that it is not so. We establish the fact that the white race, as individuals, Where the immense vote of these States came from the highest to the lowest, are happier from, the Republicans alone can show. There and more prosperons. If they assert this to must be a sight of people in those States, and be at the expense of the black race, we reply the Abolitionists knew where to find them as that we see no reason for sacrificing the hapoccasion requires. It's all right, no doubt. piness of the white race to the black; and we Loyal people would not import voters, except deny most emphatically that any scheme of emancipation that has been proposed can be proved to be beneficial even to the blacks.

> There has been much enriosity to know the cause of the presence of Secretary Stanton and Gen. Grant in our city; but it now appears to be that Grant takes entire command of the South and West, being placed over Gen. Rosecrans. This, it is said, was cansed by Gen. Hooker's conduct, who, being the senior General, refused to take command under Rosecrans. He was willing to waive the right to command the Department when coming into it, but demanded that the corps nnder him sent to re-enforce the Western General at Chattanoogs should be made independent. It would seem that the proper or most natural way in such an emergency would have been to place some other General, more tractable, in his place, but for reasons not given, the Government has thought better to given, the Government has thought better to send its highest military official, the Secretary of War, and its greatest General to adjust the difficulty. [From the Chicago Times, October 18.] Daring Exploit-Escape of Twentyfour Confederate Prisoners from Camp Douglas-How They Gained to Overtake the Fugitive'.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 22, 1863.

The page of history contains the record of hair-breadth escapes of prisoners of And in many such attempts the utmost ecresy must be observed, since the prisoner well know that a sudden and violent death is certain to follow any failure. In their confinement they plue for the free air of heaven, and what will a brave soldier not attempt for liberty? Every contingency is carefully weighed, the movements of the sentincis are closely scanned, and the state of the atmosphere is watched with interest, as the attempt must be made at midnight hour and when darkness covers the earth. If the elements are at war, so much the better, for well know that a sudden and violent death clements are at war, so much the better, for then the heavy sentinel, as he marches his lonely round, will be inclined to seek the shel-ter of his box and be lax in his vigilance. It s at such a time that the attempt must be made is at such a time that the attempt must be made, but still care and caution are highly necessary. To pass the guard is a difficult task, and he who cannot give the constreadyn when the scurty calls out "who goes there?" is certain to be shot down without a word of explanation. But everything is risked, even life itself, it slikely. ter liberty.
Within the past few months several thou-

saud prisoners have been imprisoned in Camp Douglas, and many attempts have been made to escape, but hitherto they have always failed. A number of men have been shot failed. A number of men have been shot down and the sentrics have become very vigilant. But the prisoners also have been on the alert, and many of them have staked their lives to get outside the walls of the camp. At last they have been successful, and no less than twenty-live of Morgan's men succeeded in making their escape from the camp at an early hour yesterday morning, when the martial grounds were surrounded in darkness. The means of escape were most darlingly planned, and it is evident that a skilled sapper and miner was at the bottom a skilled sapper and miner was at the bottom of it. Some ingenious individual broached the idea, after he had carefully turned it over In his mind on many a sleepiess night, that the earth leading from the barrack-room in which he and his companions were confined might be tunneled. Firtive glances were might be tunnered. Firstive glances were cast on every available opportunity at the proper spot. Notes must have been duly taken of the condition of the fence and the "beat" of the nearest sentry. Then, again, the difficulty arose as to the disposal of the mud taken out of the tunnel. But it was recessive to risk everything, and the attempt. necessary to risk everything, and the attempt was commenced three days ago. A tunnel large enough to allow the passage of the body of a man was successfully made under the fence near one of the onthonses. They must have worked with the utmost assidulty, re-lieving each other at short Intervals. Of course they had to do the digging with their hands, spades and mattocks being entirely out

When the tunnel was at length completed the news was spread around, and twenty-four men, one after snother, worked themselves through the narrow opening. The feat was a daring one, but the moment they were on the outside freedom animated them. When it was found that so large a number of the prisoners nad escaped, the greatest consternation prevailed in the camp. Parties were sent ont in all directions; the police suthorities were no-tified, but up to midnight not a single capture had been made. Doubtless strenuons efforts will be taken to arrest the men and convey hem back to their old quarters. The majority Kentucky Cavalry.

About two weeks ago twelve men made an attempt to escape when the camp sewer was in progress of construction, but they were captured before they were able to get beyond the precincts of the camp. Their companions in captivity have in this instance been more fortunate. It remains to be seen, however, whether they will be able to make their escape good to the "Sunny Sonth."

An envoy of the Sublime Porte hapened to be conversing with the father of the iate Eugene Delacroix, who was Minister of Foreign Relatious under the Directory, when from his office. The Turk seemed much grieved, and soon retired. The Minister found him waiting mournfully in the ante-room an hour afterward. "For what, may I ask, do you wait?" said M. Deiacroix. "For the end," solomply replied the Turk, turning his eyes towards heaven. "What end?" "The arrival of the bowstring with which you are to be strangled; I wish to know how a Western Vizir can die!" M. Delacroix langhed, and so heartly that the Turk rose up disappointed, saying: "At Constantinople, when a Vizir is dismissed, he is always strangicd, so that he may not divnlge the State secrets. It is an execlient precaution, and I am sorry to see that it is not adopted in France."

It may excite surprise in those who ave heard of the accuracy of mathematics, without weighing the exact significance of the word as applied to so large a subject as stronomy, that there should still be a lingerng nacertainty, to the extent of three or four millions of miles, in the sun's distance from the carth. THE NEXT COAL RUN.—It is roughly estimated that there are now 4,000,000 bushels of coal in the boats and barges on the pools of Monougabela, awaiting shipmeat to Cincin nati, Louisville, and points below. This amount is much less than might be expected, and indeed less than some persons claim. The principal reason why the amount is not double is because of the inabil-ity of coal merchants to procure barges in which to float it to market. The scarcity that State. Punishments of the Chinese Insur-

A London paper publishes a report by Lieut. Cave to Gen. Brown, commanding tho Their Liberty-Unsuccessful . Effort British forces in China, of a number of execu tions which he had witnessed:

These men had evidently been sentenced to the punishment of the "Ling-che" or "slow and ignominious death"—what we call "enting into a thousand pieces;" and it was also evident that they had been spared as much as possible, and little more than the form of this skin in different places. There was very little blood about the ground, and the men did not appear to be in pain. One was crying out that he was a Shanghac coolie, and ought not to be put to death as a rebel. He had, however, very lorg bair. I saked a low Chinese officer present what they were. He told me they were old and well-known rebels, two of them officers and that they were about to be them officers, and that they were about to be beheaded. Ho said they had been exposed from mid-day. (It was about half-past four or five o'clock P. M. when I saw them.)

At the same time I saw an official approaching to superintend the execution; and, not belief any ions to witness the superious to which I ing anxious to witness the spectacle, which had often witnessed before, I withdrew. From what other officers who remained informed me, I gathered that decapitation was per-formed at once in the usual manner, except that the sword employed was blunt, and the executioner inexpert I saw no other sign of torture whatever, and considered that these men were, taking into account Chinese laws and enstoms, rather mercifully dealt with. He replied that he did not himself approve of it, but I must recollect that a large number of the rebel prisoners taken at Talisan had been pardoned by the High Imperial officers, permitted to shave their heads, and employed as soldiers or laborers; and that it was not possible to restrain the Imperial selwas not possible to restrain the Imperial sol-diers from taking some vengeance for the treatment which the rebels had inflicted on three hundred or more of their comrades, who had been entrapped into Taitsan on a false promise of the surrender of the place.

No reader need be told, at this day, of the founding, the burning, or the rebuilding of Moscow. Next to imperial St. Petersburg tiself, it is a city of the largest importance in Russia, and, as it was the ancient capital of that mighty power, will be likely to retain its old name, along with St. Petersburg, while Russia has a national existence. Moscow was onnded, according to the historians, in th ear 1147, though the precise date is still in ispute; still, the seven hundredth anniversary of its establishment was celebrated in the year 1847. The river Moskya divides the city into two unequal paris, and upon its left bank the buildings are chiefly located. When l'eter the Great founded St. l'etersburg, and made that the seat of his empire, he decreed that no more bu !dings should be erected in Moscow for at least twenty years; but the decree was not carried ont, and appaeenent rulers. Catharine especially, laysubsequent rulers, Catharine especially, lav-ished their wealth upon the ancient capital of their gigantic domain. The city still stands on high ground, and the streets are constructd of such a width, and the buildings of such a hight, that perfect ventilation is secured. The air is so pure and exilarating, that it is esteemed the healthiest capital in Europe for a residence. There are three great cathedrals in Moscow, besides the new and heantiful church of Our Siviour, built to consecrate the retreat of the Funch in [12]. But the retreat of the French in 1812. But the structhre that chiefly attracts the attention of strangers is the Kremin. This great buildng stands on the bank of the river, and has bined to make up such an architectural wonder, excite the admiration of all be-holders. In the Kremiin it was that Napocon the First took up his quarters, and resid ed when the torch was applied by the inhabit-auts themselves to their magnificent city. A description of that awinl event in history it is place. Suffice it that there were about 31,000 buildings burned in that configration, and that not more than 6,000 were left standing. But Moscow has since been thoroughly rebuilt, and still retains all the marked characteristics of its former appearance. Its population in 1855 was estimated at 250,000. lation in 1855 was estimated at 360,000 the foot of the Kremlin is the Great Bell, the largest in the world. It is supposed to have been cast on the spot where it now stands. Its circumference, at the bottom, is 68 feet, and its height 21 feet; its weight is nearly half a million ponnds.

There is no city in Europe that presents such a splendid picture to the stranger as Moscow. Seen in the clear sunlight that prevails in that latitude, the newness and brightness of the edifices, the domes, mosques, towers and spires combine to produce an effect that some describe as of almost unearthl plendor.-[Old paper.

A Strong-Minded Woman.

A New York editor has s en a strong mind-ed woman, a "Bloomer," in the interior of the State, and he says her port and costume made strong impression upon him. She wore prown tunic, a brown vest, brown bifurca tions, a broad coarse straw hat, masculing boots (nines, he thinks, for her fect were very lirge), and, strange to say, carried in her arms a baby. It seemed odd that such a manly-looking being should be a mother, ont so it was; and the newspaper man was informed that, lu contempt of the nsages of decency, she was accustomed, when the infant required sustenance in the street, to seat her-self on the nearest door-step and administer to its wants from the maternal fountale. From all he heard of the lady, she is certainly titled to the merit of consistency. Her p ciples and practice agree. When the road that runs by her residence requires repairing, she turns out with her brother laborers and shovels dirt and cracks stones. She refuses to psy taxes on the ground that she has no vote, and that taxation without representation is an outrage on civil liberty. Consequently the tax-collector seiges her property (she has a small estate of her own, independ-ent of her husband), and sells it to the amount of his claim. On general training days she has ever been promptly on the ground armed and equipped according to law; but much to her chagrio, has never been able to find a militla captain nngallant enough to put her through the facings. Jury duty she also considers a part of her duty; but the courts "do not see it." The apron-string man, who has the honor to be her husband, obeys her lu all things. Why she does not compel him to purest the body is a mystery to the people of nnrse the baby is a mystery to the people of the town in which she lives. Probably the reason may be found in the delight she takes in setting conventional propriety at deflance by suckling it in public.

PRINCE NAPOLEON'S "MISSION" TO ENG-LAND.—The Paris Presse, referring to Prince Napoleon's "mission" to Loudon, and the statement that his object is to bring about sp understanding between the British Government and the Rebels, says:

which he foresaw and predicted. The foreign policy of Prince Napoleon is so well known that it is inconceivable how snyjonrnal can still be found to distort it. It may be expressed in a tow words: Evacuation of Rome by the French army; Rome the capital of flaty; separation of Poland of 1772; abolition of slavery in the Scuthern, States, and restablishment of the Union with the Northern States; tiquidation as soon as possible, and in the best manner possible, of the Mexican affäir. As to his home policy, a single word capital for the Cold Winter in the capital of the Destablishment of the Union with the Northern States; tiquidation as soon as possible, and in the best manner possible, of the Mexican affäir. As to his home policy, a single word expresses it—that word is liberty.

Crosse (Wis.) Democrat says:

may look out for the hardest winter seen for many years. There will be more cold days, the mercury will run lower, and the snow will be deeper than before since 1857. This is the first fall since the winter of 1857 that the brook trout have commenced leaving the small creeks for deep holes as carly as September, and the first season since then that maskrats have double-wailed little hillock homes. These and certain other infallible signs known to the sportsman and hunter indicate a winter of unusual severity."

Suffering of Children in England-Hor-rible Revelations.

A Parliamentary commission "on the employment of children" has recently made a report which draws a pilable picture of the conditions under which thousands of the children of the English paor grow up. The Commissioners report upon potteries, lucifermatch factories, percussion-cap factories, lace and hosiery, paper-staining, and fustion-cutting works. In Staffordarice alone, eleven thousand children are employed in the tot-ease, pneumonis, phthisis and asthma. Scrofula is a disease of two thirds or more. "Each generation," says Dr. Greenhow, "becomes more dwarfed and less robust, and but for heir occasional intermarriage with strangers, deterioration would rapidly,"

But little appears to have been done in England to prevent the dreadful rotting of the bones to which those engaged in the man-nfacture of lucifer matches are exposed un-less proper precautions are taken. In this country, we believe, such precautions are generally adopted. The report shows that generally adopted. The report shows that many of the other trades enumerated are unwholesome, chiefly by reason of the excessive hours of work, over-crowding and ill-ventilation of the work-roome.

When we come to the trade of chimneyweeping, we meet with instances of personal ll-treatment and revolting crueity. The ex-Isting number of climbing boys is still esti-mated at two thousand. Mr. Ruff, himself a master sweeper, thus described their initiation into the business: 'No one knows the cruehy a boy has to undergo in learning. The firsh must be hardened. This is done by rubbing it, chiefly on the clows and knees, with the trongest brine, close by a hot fire. You must stand over them with a caue or coax them by a promise of a half-penny, if they will stand a w more rubs. At first they will come back from their work with their arms and knees treaming with blood. Then they must be ubbed with brine again."

These are terrible stories to be told by Englishmen about "merry England;" and here is a pendant to them in some answers selected from the evidence before the commission when they were examining into the ineifer match manufacture: A girl, apparently about fonteen, employed in the factory in Bethoal "does not know how old she is: never was at school in her life; does not know a letter; never went to church or chapel; never heard of England, or London, or the rea, or shipe; never heard of God; does not know whether it is better to be good or bal." Another girl, aged sixteen, employed in Complemental when he school more than the property of the prope n Cemberwell, "has not been to school more than once or twice on a week day in her life, and three or four times on a Sunday; has been once to church, and once to a chapel in her lite; has never heard a preacher or any one praying anywhere else. Does not know what the Bible is; has not heard of it; does not know that it is a book, she is sure. Never was tanght any prayer." A boy, aged twelve, at work in Norwich, "went to an infant school, but has never been to any other. Never heard any one preach or pray in his life. Has never heard of a Christain; does not know whether he is one or not, or what being thristened or baptized is. Never heard of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, or knew whether He was a man; is suse he can't tell."

Another boy at Norwich, aged thirteen,
"has only been in a church or a chapel once
in his life. Might have heard of Jesus Christ, that Russell favors this solution of the difficulty.

England is said to be the wealthiest country in the world, and certainly there are found more and greater private fortunes than any-where else in En ope. But at what a c. st where else in En ope are these great incomes gathered? The wealthy English have the reputation of being very charitable, and no doubt they deserve it; in they have need to give yet more than they a o, they have need to give with other feelings, and on a better system than now, while such a hameful and horrible stories can be told of Eng task.

The start for this race was very good, Dorsey having the lead, but before reaching the first turn Alexander went up and took the lead, which he maintained throughout the mile, coming in an easy winner of the heat and race in 2.32%, Dorsey being distanced. We annex the

THESE CELEBRATED BITTERS, after being used in our family for the last 18 years, have proved to be one of the best remedies for all diseases of the nerves, such as Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Insomnia, Nervous and Neuralgic Pains generally,

And in fact, all affections to which females are liable, such as Monthly Sickness, it gives the greatest relief. In labor, if taken as directed, it cures all diseases of the Nerves, such as Debility, Dissipation, &c. Its ingredients are simple and healing, and nothing is claimed for these Bitters which they will not in all ordinary cases perform.

The successful occu-pation of Point Isabell will give us in a short time possession of Brownsville, which is op-posite Matamoras, Mexico, the grand entry depot of the rebels, from which munitions of war and needed supplies are transferred across the Rio Grande to the former place by small

A large portion of the Confederate cotton which has been sent to Europe to purchase supplies has passed through Brownsville to Anglo-rebel blockade runners lying on the Mexican neutral side of the river. Of course onr occupation of the place will effectually put a stop to this illegal traffic, and at the same time will enable our blockaders to close the river with a small force.
In one other matter the occupation of Texas will have an Important bearing. It will enable the government to keep a powerful corps of observation on the very borders of the theater of French operations in Mexico, which may be made quickly available in case on complicated relations with Napoleon should result in a war with that unprincipled and grasning potentiate. rasping potentate.

Mejor General Banks, always active and eve victorious, wil soon be lu possession of ali important points in Texas, and, practically, of the entire State. It is understood that another er corps of his army is co-operating with him from the direction of the Red river country. We anticipate glorious news from that luter esting quarter by the next steamer.

A. E. Burnside, Major General. BALTIMORE, October 21. Information reached here to-day of the murder, on Tuesday, of Daniel Eben White, of the Seventicth United States colored regiment, which is now being organized by Col.

Birney near Denedict, St. Mary's county. The perpetrator of the deed was John K. Sotheron, perpetrator of the deed was John K. Sotheron, a prominent slave owner of that county.

The Lientenant with a squad of his company was sent by Col. Bliney to Benedict on Monday to obtain recruits. Hearing that Sotheron had two of his slaves to keep them from enlisting, the Lieutenant proceeded to his house and ordered them to be released. Sotheron and his son refused, and abused the lieutenant and the store him best formed. Lieutenant and threatened to shoot him, both eing heavily armed.

Lient. White then left and proceeded to a field where several of Sotherons' claves were at work, followed by the father and son, who demanded his object. The officer replied that he was there to enlist all that were so disposed. After some more abuse, the Sotherons declared they would kill the lientenant and fired their gnus at the officer, who fell mortally wounded. His body was brought here last evening and forwarded to his friends in Massachusetts. The Sotherons made their

The cale of the Plantation Bitters is without precedent in the history of the world. There is no secret in the matter. They are at once the most speedy strengthening health-restorer ever discovered. It requires but a single trial to understand this. Their purity can a ways be relied npon. They are composed of the celebrated Calisapa Bark, Cascarilla Bark, Dandellon, Chamomlic Flowers, Lavender Flowers, Wintergreen, Anise, Clover buds, Orange-peel, Snake-root, Caraway, Corlander, Burdock. S.-T.-1860-X. &C. They are especially recommended to clergymen, pubic speakers, and persons of literary habits and sedentary life, who require free digestion, a relish for food, and clear mental faculties. Delicate females and weak persons are certain to find n these Bitters what they have so long looked for. They purify, strengthen and invigorate, They create a hea'thy appetite, They are an antido'e to change of water and diet. They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours. They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.

They prevent mlasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breat's and acidity of the stomach. They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. They cars Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus. They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache. They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak man strong, and are exhausted nature's great

Washington County Farm for Sale. Sale,

I PROPOSE TO SELL SIX HUNDRED acres of the land upon which I now live turnpike road leading from Lebanon to Springfield, six miles from the former and three from the latter place, and is only 40 minutes' drive to Lebanon, connecting with the railroad leading to Lonlaville and Nashville. There is now under rapid construction an addition-I railroad connecting Lebanon with Cincinnst and Knoxville. Tennessee, which it is said will be completed with road year. In addition to these facilities there is a net work of turnpike roads leading to Londau the midst of a fertile and well cultivated country, and there is no part of Kentucky better adapted for r as, benn corn, and tobacco. The farm is celebrated for its abundance of stock water at all seasons of the year, there being a stream of water remaing through the center, which is well supplied with springs, so that at any time it is only necessary to open gates to allow any part of the farm to have state accommodations. There is an ample supply of timber for all purposes. The entire wood land, about 250 acres, and about 80 acres of the open land, is well set in blue grass, and about 40 acres in timothy for meadow. The whole of the grass lands have now upon them a fine orch for the coming winter.

There is upon the premises a two-story dwelling with 8 rooms, and has two fronts, one fronting the pike, the tother the farm. The out buildings are good negro cabing stables and theds, techouse, paid, whose, carriage and buggy house, milk house. Ac., 46...

There are in the neighborhood Churches of almost all denominations good country echocols, with the unusual advantage of four Pomale Institutions, and a Male College (8t, Mary s), all of well known reputation, and are within from one to three hours' drive from the residence.

This tract of land can be purchased upon desirable.

DR. JOHN BULL'S COMPOUND

CEDRON BITTERS. The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century.

NO MAN S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY COnnected with the history of the Materia Medica of the United States, or more favorably known as a plomeer in medical discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL. of Louisville. Ry. His inhelitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valmable drog. His Compound Figure 200 and the West and South; and his Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide-spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not cisim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters inow offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its vitues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with the Indian hids defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handles without fear, the most venomous serpents. It is a belief with them that while there is breath left in the body the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull lis not prepared to indorse this extravagant pretension, he is novertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all wis virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all wis virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all wis

DYSPEPSIA, And its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more like a charm than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of the Maturia Medica, that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A init account of this wonderful plant may be found in the 11th edition of the U.S. Dispensatory, pages 1337 and 1223 1833.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonles, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper-distilled Bourbon whisky, which he is condident has negated in the world.

Ile might turnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long-since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtnes of a new medicine. Give the

One trial and you will never use any others.

It is not necessary to publish a long list of diseases for which the Gedron Bitters are a specific.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT.

A VALUABLE INVENTION.—One of the best, and at the same time, meeting ple contrivances for burning Kerosene Oil in a common fluid lamp, it is simple that any child can apply it, and it will hurn Kerosene Uil in any flamp without even changing the wicking. It is one of the neatest things has come under our notice, and is destined to become every popular with who use it. It burns the Oil perfectly, with no smoke, and will save a times its cost in a few months, and for portable or night lamps it appears to the new plus ultra.—[Syracuse Courier and Union.]

It accommisses the object ways nowfastly and dispusees with the contributions.

[From the Scientific American.]

It accomplishes the object very perfectly, and dispenses with the array-ance and expense of the inconvenient chimney. A free and steady title, without smoke, is obtained, when a good quality of oil is used. The invention consists in applying the metalic burner, to the tube of the Lamp; the burner is simply slipped over this, and can be easily adjuted to any find lamp; thus equipped, coal oil can be burner in it as readily as fluid. The burner should be allowed to proceed above the top of the tube a distance oqual to the dismeter of it, or about 3-15 of an inch; and the wings, composite the attachment, must be separated, so as to allow the division to be just equal to the size of the tube. These lamps are very onvenient for household purposes, as they can be carried in the hand in draughts or currents of air without being extinguished.
